

Acme [ak-mee]

noun
the highest point
summit peak

The ACME FUEL Times

| 360.943.1133 |

| www.acmefuel.com |

51°/42°

Cloudy, a touch of rain

Volume IIMMXIX

Friday, February 1, 2019

FREE

SERVING SOUTH SOUND SINCE 1925!

February....I can't believe I just typed that! Here in Western Washington, February is generally the last month of "winter". Sure we can get a skiff of snow here and there in March or even April, but nothing major. As I type this, there doesn't appear to be any really cold weather on the horizon. The Midwest and East Coast are getting that. So, we will probably escape this winter (a mild El Nino), without any significant snow. That may please some and make others boo! It is what it is....

That being said, we have had a few wind storms. So, if you lost power during any of those and you have a propane generator, please check the level in your tank. While we can track Heating Degree Days for your heating and hot water usage, we don't know who has lost power.

Piggy backing on the above, we do have an option of putting a fuel monitor on your tank. It sends us your fuel level in real time. These are great for folks who are either heavy users, inconsistent users (generators, vacation home, etc.), or situations where you absolutely can't run out of fuel. Give us a call for more information.

Well for me, February is usually the month I have to start mowing my grass. So make sure you are prepared with non-ethanol fuel from one of our Fast Fuel stations! It is the ONLY type of gas you should use in your lawn mower, weed eater, hedge trimmer, etc.

Finally, Fast Fuel Customers....Do you need a year end fuel summary for tax purposes? If so, contact Allison here in our office and she can prepare one for you. Her email is adumas@acmefuel.com.

That's it for this month!